Ike Hints Active Role In Next Poll Campaign

CHICAGO (AP) — President Eisenhower sent a message of encouragement to the Republican National Committee today and Chairman Leonard W. Hall said that "there is no question in my mind" but that the President plans to campaign actively for the party next year.

The President told the committee he will "do everything in my power next year to help you report the Republican record accurately and fully to the country."

Asked whether he believes this means the President plans to participate actively in the campaign, Hall declared that "there is no question in my mind."

The President sent a 300-word telegram to members of the committee meeting to make arrangements for their convention starting next Aug. 20 in San Francisco.

In his message the President said: "You have a splendid record to submit to the voters in 1956. I personally am proud of Republican achievements for the peace and the prosperity and the security of the American people. I shall do everything in my power next year to help you report the record accurately and fully to the country."

* * *

THE PRESIDENT outlined these goals:

"Continued progress in the healthy expansion of our economy.

"Rising levels of health, education and welfare for all.

"An untiring search for a just and enduring peace."

In striving for these goals, the President said "You and Republican candidates everywhere will be motivated by a common conviction in the imperishable principles of the American system. So inspired, you will present to the American people both a record of brilliant accomplishment and specific proposals and plans for the future that are worthy of their acclaim and their vote."

The President's message was read after Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson had outlined a six-point GOP farm program which, he said, had Eisenhower's approval.

The program, Benson said in a speech to hte Republican National Committee, will be presented to Congress in January.

"It will be no nostrum, no one-shot remedy, no cure-all," Benson said. "It will be constructive."

While he was speaking, his own Agriculture Department in Washington reported that farm product prices dropped another 2 per cent between mid-October and mid-November.

The decline matched a similar one a month ago and put the level of farm prices 7 per cent below a year ago and about 28 per cent below February 1951.

The department said farm prices as a whole averaged 81 per cent of parity, compared with 87 per cent a year ago and 123 per cent for October 1946.

* * *

BENSON SAID farm proposals of Democratic leaders Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York have reached "ludicrous proportions."

The Democrats, he added, have picked "agriculture as the major domestic battlefield for 1956," believing it was "smart politics."

Ashville Resident, One Of Crew In Jet Crackup, Escapes Injury

Capt. Ellsworth D. Callahan of Ashville was one of four crew members who escaped uninjured when their six-jet RB-47E crashed while landing at Lockbourne Air Force Base Wednesday afternoon.

The huge plane was making a final approach from the northeast after passing over Groveport when the crash took place. A spokesman for the Information Office at the air base said the accident was caused by "control difficulties".

The plane veered off to the left and crashed into a field near the base's rifle range, south and east of the runway. An ambulance, stationed at the range, was rushed to the scene, but the crew had already scrambled from the wreckage.

All four occupants of the plane escaped before the jet aircraft burst into flames. The air base fire department arrived on the scene quickly and extinguished the flames in a matter of minutes.

* * *

THE INFORMATION Office identified the crewmen as: Capt. Thomas A. Graham, aircraft commander; Capt. Ellsworth, observer-instructor; Capt. Arthur R. Weisberg, observer; and 1st Lt. Armondo A. Cabrire, co-pilot. All except Capt. Ellsworth are from Columbus and are assigned to the 3rd Strategic Reconnaissance Squadron of the 26th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing.

The plane was on a routine training mission, the Information Office said, with Capt. Weisberg receiving observer instruction from Capt. Ellsworth. As the plane approached the runway for the landing, Capt. Graham radioed the control tower that he was having trouble with his power controls.

Just as the wheels touched down on the runway, Capt. Graham apparently tried to get the aircraft into the air for another approach. As he tried to "rev up" the six jet engines, more power seemed to go to the three right-side jets which caused the plane to veer off to the left, the spokesman explained.

The plane barely missed a ditch but landed near a road which made it easy for fire fighting equipment to get to the 100-ton aircraft. The crash occurred at 2:35 p. m.

Air Force spokesmen said the accident was considered "major" and the first one of this kind reported at the base in approximately 28 months. A board of inquiry will investigate the accident, a standard procedure in the Air Force.

Guards Held For Racket In Gotham Jail

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven guards have been accused of running a bribery racket in city prison with a "fixed price" for favors to inmates ranging from 50 cents for a stroll in the corridor to $35 for a bottle of scotch.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said last night a "tip," followed by painstaking police work, led to the arrests.

Hogan said privileges for a fee included the arranging of card and dice games, extra food, liquors, visiting from cell to cell and $85 whisky and cold cuts party in a prison store room.

Booked early today on charges of taking illegal fees, a felony, and delivering contraband, a misdemeanor, were:

Angelo Ferraro, 34, Lorenzo Regester, 32, and Robert T. Meacle, 30; John McKnight, 40; Joseph K. Gavin, 31; Walter Smith, 43, and James B. Henderson, 32.

Hogan told this story:

Patrolman Michael Lizzio and Policewoman Norma Trentalange, posing as the brother and fiancee of a prisoner, got word to the guards they wanted favors for the inmate.

Twelve times since Nov. 1 transactions for illegal favors took place.

The police list of the guards' alleged price scale:

A steak sandwich, $1; change to a more desirable cell, $40; a stroll in the corridor, 50 cents; a visit to another prisoner's cell, $1; delivery of money from the outside, $15; a quart of scotch, $35.

Turncoat Fails Arrive Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—A fourth GI turncoat who decided to come home after living in Red China failed to arrive here today.

U. S. consular officials waiting at the border between China and this British colony said Richard R. Tenneson, 22-year-old son of Mrs. Portia Howe of Alden, Minn., was not on the Canton train.

The officials said there was no indication when Tenneson might arrive. The Chinese Red Cross had informed the British Red Cross that Peiping was releasing him.

Tenneson was captured in Korea in May 1951. He was one of 21 GIs who refused to be repatriated after the armistice and instead chose to live in Red China.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano told the Russians today that normal relations between West Germany and the Soviet Union are impossible so long as Moscow blocks the reunification of Germany.

Police Baffled By Illinois Case

LEBANON, Ill. (AP) — Officers followed several leads today in the baffling disappearance of a carpenter and his attractive wife from their bloodied home but none changed the theory that both were victims of a maniac killer.

Nothing was found yesterday by a 100-man search party which looked in creeks, ravines and wooded areas in a 15-20 mile radius of the home of Harold Smith, 30, and his 35-year-old wife, Arlene.

One clue, a brown leather belt, found in a pool of dried blood just a foot from an outside wall of the house is the first tangible trace of a possible killer.

CIO Ignoring Lewis Demand

UMW Chief Sends Dun For 'Past-Due Debts'

NEW YORK (AP)—The CIO went ahead today with plans for merger with the AFL after rejecting a dun from John L. Lewis for alleged past debts.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, an independent labor organization not a party to the prospective merger, sent his payment demand on the eve of separate AFL and CIO conventions called to ratify the amalgamation.

Lewis is a maverick in the union movement who in the past has been a leader in both the AFL and CIO. Last night he demanded that the CIO, before any merger action, pay up to $1,665,000 which he claimed to be the balance owed the UMW from early CIO organizing days. Lewis headed the CIO at that time.

"Why, he's got the second biggest bank in Washington and wants us to help him make it the biggest," James B. Carey, a CIO leader, snorted.

Lewis, whose rich miners' union reportedly controls the National Bank of Washington, wrote Carey that the UMW had advanced the CIO approximately $7,250,000 in the late 1930s and $1,665,000 is still due in "valid loans."

* * *

CAREY, SECRETARY - treasurer of the CIO when Lewis was its president and still holder of that office, fired back a reply telling Lewis that "the CIO owes you no money."

"You have achieved," Carey wrote Lewis, "the momentary ripple of publicity which you sought to relieve the boredom of your isolation from the democratic labor movement."

Lewis aides refused to say whether the UMW planned any legal action against the CIO.

Unwanted Traffic 'Honors' Recorded For This County

Pickaway Leads State In Accident Increase In Report Covering First 9 Months Of 1955

By DAVE BROWN
Herald Staff Writer

Regardless of the outcome of Safe-Driving Day here, Pickaway County has apparently "earned" two unwanted "honors" in traffic safety in the first nine months of 1955.

According to statistics just released by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety:

1. No other county in the state has had a greater increase in total accidents.

2. No other county in the state has had a greater increase in the number of property damage accidents.

* * *

TO ADD more salt to the wound, Pickaway County ranks third in the increase of injury accidents and fifth in the increase of number of persons injured during this period.

Pickaway County had approximately a 55 percent jump in traffic accidents from January to the end of September this year as compared with 1954. In the nine-month period in 1955, there were 477 reported accidents as compared with 308 for last year.

The county showing the next highest increase is Madison with 48 percent. Clermont County had a jump of 47 percent in total accidents.

Pickaway County had approximately a 62 percent jump in property damage accidents in the nine-month summary. There were 281 such reportable mishaps this year, as compared with 173 for 1954.

* * *

THE SURVEY, in noting the number of persons hurt on Pickaway County highways, exceeds the figures of Sheriff Charles Radcliff's office. The report lists 336 persons injured. The sheriff's figures showed less than 275. In any event, 236 persons were hurt during the first nine months of 1954, resulting in a 45 percent hike.

However, Pickaway County only ranks fifth in the state in this department. Perry County had 82 percent, Clermont County 76 percent, Preble County 50 percent and Coshocton County 47 percent.

Injury accidents in Pickaway County took approximately a 49 percent jump over last year. The report lists 186 mishaps in 1955 in which someone was injured, compared with 125 for last year.

But Pickaway County ranks behind Perry County, with a 75 percent jump, and Clermont County, with an increase of 55 percent.

Oddly enough, Pickaway County is one of 20 counties which showed a decrease in the amount of property damage, in dollars. The state total showed approximately a 14 percent increase.

* * *

PICKAWAY COUNTY has managed to live down one ugly portion of the traffic report—fatalities. Although nicknamed "Killer County" earlier this year because of the alarming increase of traffic deaths, Pickaway has not had a traffic fatality since Aug. 15.

French Election Campaign Starts

PARIS (AP) — France's election campaign got off to a booming start today only a few hours after Premier Edgar Faure's government decided to dissolve the National Assembly.

The Socialists and backers of former Premier Pierre Mendes-France lost no time in opening their drive for votes in the nationwide election, expected to be set for Jan. 8. They turned their heaviest propaganda artillery against Faure.

The Cabinet decision to dissolve the Assembly, the first such move in the history of the postwar Fourth Republic, was announced last night. It gives Faure the early election the Assembly had denied him.

The Assembly handed Faure a vote of no confidence Tuesday, largely because of its opposition to his campaign for early elections. The 318-218 vote, however, permitted use of a clause in the 1946 constitution providing dissolution of the Assembly by the Cabinet if two governments were defeated on votes of confidence by a majority of all members of the House within an 18-month period.

* * *

MENDES-FRANCE received a no-confidence vote last February, with more than half the deputies against him.

It charged the Faure government with "lying to the country on its real economic situation, undermining the authority of France in Algeria and Morocco, abandoning every attempt of French intervention in international affairs, betraying the interests of French youth in leaving the economic feudalists to dictate the new policy of the country."

Mendes-France, who still is in the process of reorganizing and tightening his grip on the Radical Socialist party, wanted the elections delayed to give him more time to prepare for a campaign.

He also had pushed for election of individual deputies by districts, believing that would help him.

Faure also is a Radical Socialist but Mendes-France controls the party machinery and 34 of its 65 Assembly members.

20 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

New City Officials Discuss Problems

Two Councilmen-Elect Agree Revenue, Sewers Top Needs

By LOUIS FABRO
Herald Staff Writer

The two biggest problems facing Circleville, according to two men who will soon begin their first full term on city council, are the need for additional revenue and extension of the sewer system to the new North Annex.

Lee Cook declared that "extension of the sewer system into the Northend is the city's number one problem today."

Cook, unanimously elected by council in October to complete the unexpired term of Ray Cook (no relation) who moved from the city, was elected for a full term in last November's election. A Democrat, he was unopposed in his bid to represent the second war on the law-making body.

Councilman-elect Charles Kirkpatrick said "the first thing Circleville needs is additional revenue." He said that, although he has formed no opinion on how it is to be collected, "one thing is sure, and that is that it will have to come some way or other."

* * *

KIRKPATRICK, a Republican, was elected councilman from the big first ward in the recent election. He ousted the Democratic incumbent Clarence Helvering (who incidentally is a personal friend of his) by a 730-368 vote. Kirkpatrick assumes his duties in January.

Another relative newcomer in the city's political picture is Ludwig Haecker, chairman of the planning commission. He was appointed to that position by Mayor Bob Hedges a couple of months ago.

Haecker, who replaced Bob Adkins, who resigned, said the number one problem of his group is to complete the zoning of the recently annexed northern section.

Discussing his first venture into public life, Haecker said:

"I have a lot to learn and a lot to do, but I'm going to do the best I can with my job."

Appointment of Cook to city council in October marked his first plunge into politics.

He said the city does need additional revenue, but between the two currently proposed money raising ordinances, one to increase sewer rates and the other calling for a city income tax, he feels the sewer rate proposal will win out.

Discussing the city income tax, Cook declared it would pose a control problem for the city, necessitating the hiring of additional help to maintain the books. He pointed out that people, generally, seem to be opposed to it.

* * *

COOK ALSO said he feels the current county-wide reappraisal of real estate may bring some additional revenue to the city and help alleviate the money squeeze.

He said he feels an organized refuse collection system is also needed in the city, a point on which Kirkpatrick differs.

Kirkpatrick said the private trash collectors do a "very good job and are very regular in their collections." In fact, he pointed out, "the only time they don't pick it up is when we don't put it out."

He places extension of the sewer system to the Northend as second on his list of city needs.

Whereas Cook and Haecker are new to public life, Kirkpatrick has had previous experience. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Pickaway County clerk of courts office in 1940 and was elected for a single term to the city treasurer's post in 1942.

Both Kirkpatrick and Cook are married. Kirkpatrick is the father of three children and Cook has two. Haecker is single.

Cook said he already enjoys his duties as a councilman and Kirkpatrick said he was looking forward to joining the law-making body.

Swelling College Enrollment Eyed

COLUMBUS (AP)—A group at Ohio State University tomorrow begins chasing down the answer to the big question—how to cope with swelling college student ranks.

Ohio State President Howard L. Bevis today announced appointment of Dr. John Dale Russell of Santa Fe, N. M., to direct the study. It will be sponsored by the Ohio College Assn.

Due to population increase, the number of college-age young people will double in 15 years, Dr. Bevis said. He added that the study should decide what is needed, such as junior colleges or possibly an additional year or grade for college-level study in high school.

Maybe He Thought It Was The Bypass

At noontime, no traffic accidents had been reported in Pickaway since Safe-Driving Day began last midnight. But there could have been a "humdinger".

Cluster Delawder, 48, of Ironton, was arrested by city policeman Dick Anderson while driving down the railroad tracks near S. Pickaway St. in the Southend.

He was accused of drunk driving and took a blood-alcohol test, resulting in a reading of .25. A reading of .15 is considered "under the influence" of intoxicants.

Delawder was fined $100 and costs by Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb, sentenced to three consecutive days in jail and had his license suspended for six months.

Police said Delawder complained the roads in Circleville were "lousy and bumpy."

Buckeye State Death Toll Up To 4 So Far

Total Of 14 Traffic Deaths Recorded For Entire Nation Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Safe Driving Day half ended in the Eastern time belt, the national death toll from traffic accidents stood at 14 today.

As of noon today, Ohio had the dubious honor of leading the nation's Safety Day death parade. The Buckeye State had recorded four traffic fatalities before sunup.

Indiana, Louisiana and Michigan each had recorded two fatalities while Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota and New York had one each.

For comparative purposes the Associated Press counted the traffic fatalities for Thursday, Nov. 17. The total for the 24 hours was 69.

Here is a list of Ohio's fatal highway accidents:

Bodies of two men were found in a partly burned car which had rammed into a utility pole this morning about a half mile south of the Defiance-Paulding county line, just off Ohio 111. The victims were listed as Leopoldo C. Sanchez, 21, and Frederico B. Vasquez, 24, both of near Defiance.

* * *

GENE HESS, 26, of Toledo, was killed on the Northern Ohio Turnpike when his tractor-trailer outfit hit a guard rail and threw him to the pavement. Turnpike patrolmen said Hess may have fallen asleep as his eastbound truck rolled the monotonous miles of the toll road.

In Cincinnati, Marvin E. Freeman, 24, died from injuries received in an automobile accident this morning. Three other persons were hurt, one critically, in the same accident. One of them told police they were speeding "at least 75 miles per hour." He added they had visited several cafes.

Today was the nation's second attempt to go through 24 hours without a traffic death.

President Eisenhower's Committee for Traffic Safety, which designated today to dramatize the idea that careful driving and careful walking can save lives, had hopes for a sharp reduction in traffic accidents.

Eisenhower called on all Americans to help show that "we can, by our own personal efforts, reduce accidents on our streets and highways."

In many cities banners are strung across streets urging motorists and pedestrians to be extra careful. Loud-speaker-equipped police cars are cruising the streets. In Chicago, an amplified voice

"BOWLEGGED LETTER 'H'"

At first glance you might assume that his "H" got bowlegged after being dropped too often by an Englishman with a Cockney accent. Or again it'd be logical to suppose that it may have gotten warped after being mixed up in an H-Bomb Explosion. But the truth is, this "H" really got that way from hanging around Horses too much. If this seems strange, remember that you've never seen a Horse without an "H" in front of it or a Ranch without an "H" on the end of it. Of course, for some time there's been a movement among Ranchers to eliminate the "H". Many of them call their places the "Bar-H" and when you're out west you often hear the expression, "Get the 'H' out of here!" At least, when I'm out west I often hear it.

U. S. consular officials waiting at the border between China and this British colony said Richard R. Tenneson, 22-year-old son of Mrs. Portia Howe of Alden, Minn., was not on the Canton train.

The officials said there was no indication when Tenneson might arrive. The Chinese Red Cross had informed the British Red Cross that Peiping was releasing him.

Tenneson was captured in Korea in May 1951. He was one of 21 GIs who refused to be repatriated after the armistice and instead chose to live in Red China.

West German Aide Raps Soviet Stand

BONN, Germany (AP) — Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano told the Russians today that normal relations between West Germany and the Soviet Union are impossible so long as Moscow blocks the reunification of Germany.

In a government declaration delivered to the cheers of the Bundestag, Von Brentano firmly ruled out separate, bilateral negotiations between Bonn and Moscow on the East-West deadlock over the question of uniting his divided nation.

COLUMBUS (AP) — Applications for two branch banks in Fremont have been approved by the state division of banks. The Fremont banks will be known as the East Side branch and West Side branch of the Colonial Bank.

Police Baffled By Illinois Case

LEBANON, Ill. (AP) — Officers followed several leads today in the baffling disappearance of a carpenter and his attractive wife from their bloodied home but none changed the theory that both were victims of a maniac killer.

Nothing was found yesterday by a 100-man search party which looked in creeks, ravines and wooded areas in a 15-20 mile radius of the home of Harold Smith, 30, and his 35-year-old wife, Arlene.

One clue, a brown leather belt, found in a pool of dried blood just a foot from an outside wall of the house is the first tangible trace of a possible killer.

Parochial School Backer Is Elated

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for Ohio's Roman Catholic women said today one report by the White House Conference on Education "recognizes the contribution of parochial schools to the education of our youth."

Mrs. Alexander J. Glockner of Columbus said she was gratified when the conference said in one report that "there is a need for free interchange of information between public school and non public school authorities with reference to school construction plans."

CIO Ignoring Lewis Demand

UMW Chief Sends Dun For 'Past-Due Debts'

NEW YORK (AP)—The CIO went ahead today with plans for merger with the AFL after rejecting a dun from John L. Lewis for alleged past debts.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, an independent labor organization not a party to the prospective merger, sent his payment demand on the eve of separate AFL and CIO conventions called to ratify the amalgamation.

Lewis is a maverick in the union movement who in the past has been a leader in both the AFL and CIO. Last night he demanded that the CIO, before any merger action, pay up to $1,665,000 which he claimed to be the balance owed the UMW from early CIO organizing days. Lewis headed the CIO at that time.

"Why, he's got the second biggest bank in Washington and wants us to help him make it the biggest," James B. Carey, a CIO leader, snorted.

Lewis, whose rich miners' union reportedly controls the National Bank of Washington, wrote Carey that the UMW had advanced the CIO approximately $7,250,000 in the late 1930s and $1,665,000 is still due in "valid loans."

* * *

CAREY, SECRETARY - treasurer of the CIO when Lewis was its president and still holder of that office, fired back a reply telling Lewis that "the CIO owes you no money."

"You have achieved," Carey wrote Lewis, "the momentary ripple of publicity which you sought to relieve the boredom of your isolation from the democratic labor movement."

Lewis aides refused to say whether the UMW planned any legal action against the CIO.

Unwanted Traffic 'Honors' Recorded For This County

Pickaway Leads State In Accident Increase In Report Covering First 9 Months Of 1955

By DAVE BROWN
Herald Staff Writer

Regardless of the outcome of Safe-Driving Day here, Pickaway County has apparently "earned" two unwanted "honors" in traffic safety in the first nine months of 1955.

According to statistics just released by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety:

1. No other county in the state has had a greater increase in total accidents.

2. No other county in the state has had a greater increase in the number of property damage accidents.

* * *

TO ADD more salt to the wound, Pickaway County ranks third in the increase of injury accidents and fifth in the increase of number of persons injured during this period.

Pickaway County had approximately a 55 percent jump in traffic accidents from January to the end of September this year as compared with 1954. In the nine-month period in 1955, there were 477 reported accidents as compared with 308 for last year.

The county showing the next highest increase is Madison with 48 percent. Clermont County had a jump of 47 percent in total accidents.

Pickaway County had approximately a 62 percent jump in property damage accidents in the nine-month summary. There were 281 such reportable mishaps this year, as compared with 173 for 1954.

* * *

THE SURVEY, in noting the number of persons hurt on Pickaway County highways, exceeds the figures of Sheriff Charles Radcliff's office. The report lists 336 persons injured. The sheriff's figures showed less than 275. In any event, 236 persons were hurt during the first nine months of 1954, resulting in a 45 percent hike.

However, Pickaway County only ranks fifth in the state in this department. Perry County had 82 percent, Clermont County 76 percent, Preble County 50 percent and Coshocton County 47 percent.

Injury accidents in Pickaway County took approximately a 49 percent jump over last year. The report lists 186 mishaps in 1955 in which someone was injured, compared with 125 for last year.

But Pickaway County ranks behind Perry County, with a 75 percent jump, and Clermont County, with an increase of 55 percent.

Oddly enough, Pickaway County is one of 20 counties which showed a decrease in the amount of property damage, in dollars. The state total showed approximately a 14 percent increase.

* * *

PICKAWAY COUNTY has managed to live down one ugly portion of the traffic report—fatalities. Although nicknamed "Killer County" earlier this year because of the alarming increase of traffic deaths, Pickaway has not had a traffic fatality since Aug. 15.

French Election Campaign Starts

PARIS (AP) — France's election campaign got off to a booming start today only a few hours after Premier Edgar Faure's government decided to dissolve the National Assembly.

The Socialists and backers of former Premier Pierre Mendes-France lost no time in opening their drive for votes in the nationwide election, expected to be set for Jan. 8. They turned their heaviest propaganda artillery against Faure.

The Cabinet decision to dissolve the Assembly, the first such move in the history of the postwar Fourth Republic, was announced last night. It gives Faure the early election the Assembly had denied him.

The Assembly handed Faure a vote of no confidence Tuesday, largely because of its opposition to his campaign for early elections. The 318-218 vote, however, permitted use of a clause in the 1946 constitution providing dissolution of the Assembly by the Cabinet if two governments were defeated on votes of confidence by a majority of all members of the House within an 18-month period.

* * *

MENDES-FRANCE received a no-confidence vote last February, with more than half the deputies against him.

It charged the Faure government with "lying to the country on its real economic situation, undermining the authority of France in Algeria and Morocco, abandoning every attempt of French intervention in international affairs, betraying the interests of French youth in leaving the economic feudalists to dictate the new policy of the country."

Mendes-France, who still is in the process of reorganizing and tightening his grip on the Radical Socialist party, wanted the elections delayed to give him more time to prepare for a campaign.

He also had pushed for election of individual deputies by districts, believing that would help him.

Faure also is a Radical Socialist but Mendes-France controls the party machinery and 34 of its 65 Assembly members.

20 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

New City Officials Discuss Problems

Two Councilmen-Elect Agree Revenue, Sewers Top Needs

By LOUIS FABRO
Herald Staff Writer

The two biggest problems facing Circleville, according to two men who will soon begin their first full term on city council, are the need for additional revenue and extension of the sewer system to the new North Annex.

Lee Cook declared that "extension of the sewer system into the Northend is the city's number one problem today."

Cook, unanimously elected by council in October to complete the unexpired term of Ray Cook (no relation) who moved from the city, was elected for a full term in last November's election. A Democrat, he was unopposed in his bid to represent the second war on the law-making body.

Councilman-elect Charles Kirkpatrick said "the first thing Circleville needs is additional revenue." He said that, although he has formed no opinion on how it is to be collected, "one thing is sure, and that is that it will have to come some way or other."

* * *

KIRKPATRICK, a Republican, was elected councilman from the big first ward in the recent election. He ousted the Democratic incumbent Clarence Helvering (who incidentally is a personal friend of his) by a 730-368 vote. Kirkpatrick assumes his duties in January.

Another relative newcomer in the city's political picture is Ludwig Haecker, chairman of the planning commission. He was appointed to that position by Mayor Bob Hedges a couple of months ago.

Haecker, who replaced Bob Adkins, who resigned, said the number one problem of his group is to complete the zoning of the recently annexed northern section.

Discussing his first venture into public life, Haecker said:

"I have a lot to learn and a lot to do, but I'm going to do the best I can with my job."

Appointment of Cook to city council in October marked his first plunge into politics.

He said the city does need additional revenue, but between the two currently proposed money raising ordinances, one to increase sewer rates and the other calling for a city income tax, he feels the sewer rate proposal will win out.

Discussing the city income tax, Cook declared it would pose a control problem for the city, necessitating the hiring of additional help to maintain the books. He pointed out that people, generally, seem to be opposed to it.

* * *

COOK ALSO said he feels the current county-wide reappraisal of real estate may bring some additional revenue to the city and help alleviate the money squeeze.

He said he feels an organized refuse collection system is also needed in the city, a point on which Kirkpatrick differs.

Kirkpatrick said the private trash collectors do a "very good job and are very regular in their collections." In fact, he pointed out, "the only time they don't pick it up is when we don't put it out."

He places extension of the sewer system to the Northend as second on his list of city needs.

Whereas Cook and Haecker are new to public life, Kirkpatrick has had previous experience. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Pickaway County clerk of courts office in 1940 and was elected for a single term to the city treasurer's post in 1942.

Both Kirkpatrick and Cook are married. Kirkpatrick is the father of three children and Cook has two. Haecker is single.

Cook said he already enjoys his duties as a councilman and Kirkpatrick said he was looking forward to joining the law-making body.

Swelling College Enrollment Eyed

COLUMBUS (AP)—A group at Ohio State University tomorrow begins chasing down the answer to the big question—how to cope with swelling college student ranks.

Ohio State President Howard L. Bevis today announced appointment of Dr. John Dale Russell of Santa Fe, N. M., to direct the study. It will be sponsored by the Ohio College Assn.

Due to population increase, the number of college-age young people will double in 15 years, Dr. Bevis said. He added that the study should decide what is needed, such as junior colleges or possibly an additional year or grade for college-level study in high school.

Maybe He Thought It Was The Bypass

At noontime, no traffic accidents had been reported in Pickaway since Safe-Driving Day began last midnight. But there could have been a "humdinger".

Cluster Delawder, 48, of Ironton, was arrested by city policeman Dick Anderson while driving down the railroad tracks near S. Pickaway St. in the Southend.

He was accused of drunk driving and took a blood-alcohol test, resulting in a reading of .25. A reading of .15 is considered "under the influence" of intoxicants.

Delawder was fined $100 and costs by Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb, sentenced to three consecutive days in jail and had his license suspended for six months.

Police said Delawder complained the roads in Circleville were "lousy and bumpy."

Buckeye State Death Toll Up To 4 So Far

Total Of 14 Traffic Deaths Recorded For Entire Nation Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Safe Driving Day half ended in the Eastern time belt, the national death toll from traffic accidents stood at 14 today.

As of noon today, Ohio had the dubious honor of leading the nation's Safety Day death parade. The Buckeye State had recorded four traffic fatalities before sunup.

Indiana, Louisiana and Michigan each had recorded two fatalities while Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota and New York had one each.

For comparative purposes the Associated Press counted the traffic fatalities for Thursday, Nov. 17. The total for the 24 hours was 69.

Here is a list of Ohio's fatal highway accidents:

Bodies of two men were found in a partly burned car which had rammed into a utility pole this morning about a half mile south of the Defiance-Paulding county line, just off Ohio 111. The victims were listed as Leopoldo C. Sanchez, 21, and Frederico B. Vasquez, 24, both of near Defiance.

* * *

GENE HESS, 26, of Toledo, was killed on the Northern Ohio Turnpike when his tractor-trailer outfit hit a guard rail and threw him to the pavement. Turnpike patrolmen said Hess may have fallen asleep as his eastbound truck rolled the monotonous miles of the toll road.

In Cincinnati, Marvin E. Freeman, 24, died from injuries received in an automobile accident this morning. Three other persons were hurt, one critically, in the same accident. One of them told police they were speeding "at least 75 miles per hour." He added they had visited several cafes.

Today was the nation's second attempt to go through 24 hours without a traffic death.

President Eisenhower's Committee for Traffic Safety, which designated today to dramatize the idea that careful driving and careful walking can save lives, had hopes for a sharp reduction in traffic accidents.

Eisenhower called on all Americans to help show that "we can, by our own personal efforts, reduce accidents on our streets and highways."

In many cities banners are strung across streets urging motorists and pedestrians to be extra careful. Loud-speaker-equipped police cars are cruising the streets. In Chicago, an amplified voice

DROODLES

"BOWLEGGED LETTER 'H'"

At first glance you might assume that his "H" got bowlegged after being dropped too often by an Englishman with a Cockney accent. Or again it'd be logical to suppose that it may have gotten warped after being mixed up in an H-Bomb Explosion. But the truth is, this "H" really got that way from hanging around Horses too much. If this seems strange, remember that you've never seen a Horse without an "H" in front of it or a Ranch without an "H" on the end of it. Of course, for some time there's been a movement among Ranchers to eliminate the "H". Many of them call their places the "Bar-H" and when you're out west you often hear the expression, "Get the 'H' out of here!" At least, when I'm out west I often hear it.

booms across a street in the loop: "You! The man in the gray overcoat! Get back on the sidewalk until the light changes."

One hundred and one persons died in traffic deaths each day during the first 10 months of 1955. This one-day effort is to show that the casualty toll can be cut down if everyone makes an extra effort every day, like today.

* * *

SINCE THE AVERAGE daily figure of 101 includes holidays, when more motorists are on the roads, and persons who die a day to several months later of injuries suffered in accidents, today's toll cannot be used as a basis for figuring success of S-D Day.

The Associated Press made a survey on Thursday, Nov. 17, a comparable day, and found that 69 persons were killed on the highways. That figure is used as a measuring stick today, when the AP again is tabulating traffic deaths across the nation.

The National Safety Council will keep a count of traffic fatalities during the period 10 days before and 10 days after S-D Day to determine the effectiveness of the safety drive over a broader period.

The nation observed its first S-D Day Dec. 15, 1954. Fifty-one persons were killed on the streets and highways, an improvement over an ordinary day without a safety campaign.

Caution Is Urged

The Circleville New Car Dealers Association supported the cause of Safe Driving Day in this locality with a public appeal for caution on the part of all motorists. The association's participation in the nationwide observance was revealed late Wednesday.

Woodward Will Up For Probate

NEW YORK (AP)—The fourth and last will written by William Woodward Jr. was admitted for probate in court here yesterday. Under the latest will, dated 1948, the widow receives a life income from a third of his estimated $10 million-estate, with the other two-thirds being put in trust for the two Woodward sons.

Mrs. Woodward's share reverts to them upon her death. In cash she was left $2,500, the legal minimum under New York law.

The 35-year-old socialite-sportsman was shot to death last Oct. 30 by his wife, Ann, 39, in their Oyster Bay, Long Island, home. A grand jury absolved her of any blame in her husband's death.

Federal Aid For Schools Getting Nod At Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House Conference on Education seemed almost certain today to go strongly on record in favor of federal aid to schools, particularly for buildings.

Discussion table chairmen, sitting in two teams of eight until 2 a. m., simmered down the views of 166 roundtables which had discussed school finance during the evening.

Each of the two teams designated one of its members to refine the findings further for final presentation to the conference tonight.

Team No. 1 reported:

1. More than 2-1 sentiment among participants at 83 roundtable discussions in favor of some increase in federal aid.

2. A large majority in favor of construction aid.

3. A narrow majority opposing federal aid for school operation, which would include purchase of textbooks and teachers' pay.

Team No. 2 reported:

* * *

1. MORE THAN 70 per cent of participants at the other 83 roundtables in favor of some increase in federal aid, with a small minority opposed to federal aid for education in any form.

2. Almost all tables, as distinguished from participants, in favor of some federal aid for construction.

3. A substantial but small majority of tables in favor of some aid for current expenses.

Thus federal aid for school house building was strongly popular but there was about an even split on aid for operation.

Tables represented on Team No. 1 reported a predominant view that all states should be eligible for federal aid but that provision should be made to insure that the money would be distributed within the states to the poorest school districts first.

Team No. 2 found about an even division on whether federal money should go only to needy states.

Both teams reported sentiment to insure against federal control of educational policies. Team No. 2 found general agreement that any new federal money should be administered by the U.S. Office of Education and channeled through state educational agencies, rather than directly to localities.

Hog Prices Fall To 14-Year Low

CHICAGO (AP)—Hog prices tumbled to new 14-year low today on a heavy outpouring of offerings from this country.

Butcher hogs dropped 50 to 75 cents a hundred pounds. Top price was $11.85, paid for a 40-head lot. Not since December, 1941 have hogs failed to command a higher price than this.

Receipts totaled 25,000 head. This brought receipts for the week so far to 90,000 head, largest for four days since February 1944.

Most butchers weighing from 190 to 220 pounds sold at $10.50 to $21.25 a hundred pounds.

New Daughter Is 13th Child

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redding of Williamsport were still undecided today on a name for their 13th child. The 30-year old mother gave birth to their newest daughter recently in Berger Hospital.

The Reddings' other 12 children are all living.

Mrs. Redding, asked if such a large family presented anything in the way of special problems, pointed out that the children themselves help solve any unusual difficulties when they arise.

"The children are always helpful," she explained. "After all, my mother had 13 children, and my husband came from a family of nine children—so we learn to get along."

Buckeye State Death Toll Up To 4 So Far

booms across a street in the loop:

"You! The man in the gray overcoat! Get back on the sidewalk until the light changes."

One hundred and one persons died in traffic deaths each day during the first 10 months of 1955. This one-day effort is to show that the casualty toll can be cut down if everyone makes an extra effort every day, like today.

* * *

SINCE THE AVERAGE daily figure of 101 includes holidays, when more motorists are on the roads, and persons who die a day to several months later of injuries suffered in accidents, today's toll cannot be used as a basis for figuring success of S-D Day.

The Associated Press made a survey on Thursday, Nov. 17, a comparable day, and found that 69 persons were killed on the highways. That figure is used as a measuring stick today, when the AP again is tabulating traffic deaths across the nation.

The National Safety Council will keep a count of traffic fatalities during the period 10 days before and 10 days after S-D Day to determine the effectiveness of the safety drive over a broader period.

The nation observed its first S-D Day Dec. 15, 1954. Fifty-one persons were killed on the streets and highways, an improvement over an ordinary day without a safety campaign.

Caution Is Urged

The Circleville New Car Dealers Association supported the cause of Safe Driving Day in this locality with a public appeal for caution on the part of all motorists. The association's participation in the nationwide observance was revealed late Wednesday.

Woodward Will Up For Probate

NEW YORK (AP)—The fourth and last will written by William Woodward Jr. was admitted for probate in court here yesterday. Under the latest will, dated 1948, the widow receives a life income from a third of his estimated $10 million estate, with the other two-thirds being put in trust for the two Woodward sons.

Mrs. Woodward's share reverts to them upon her death. In cash she was left $2,500, the legal minimum under New York law.

The 35-year-old socialite-sportsman was shot to death last Oct. 30 by his wife, Ann, 39, in their Oyster Bay, Long Island, home. A grand jury absolved her of any blame in her husband's death.

Federal Aid For Schools Getting Nod At Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House Conference on Education seemed almost certain today to go strongly on record in favor of federal aid to schools, particularly for buildings.

Discussion table chairmen, sitting in two teams of eight until 2 a. m., simmered down the views of 166 roundtables which had discussed school finance during the evening.

Each of the two teams designated one of its members to refine the findings further for final presentation to the conference tonight.

Team No. 1 reported:

1. More than 2-1 sentiment among participants at 83 roundtable discussions in favor of some increase in federal aid.

2. A large majority in favor of construction aid.

3. A narrow majority opposing federal aid for school operation, which would include purchase of textbooks and teachers' pay.

Team No. 2 reported:

* * *

1. MORE THAN 70 per cent of participants at the other 83 roundtables in favor of some increase in federal aid, with a small minority opposed to federal aid for education in any form.

2. Almost all tables, as distinguished from participants, in favor of some federal aid for construction.

3. A substantial but small majority of tables in favor of some aid for current expenses.

Thus federal aid for school house building was strongly popular but there was about an even split on aid for operation.

Tables represented on Team No. 1 reported a predominant view that all states should be eligible for federal aid but that provision should be made to insure that the money would be distributed within the states to the poorest school districts first.

Team No. 2 found about an even division on whether federal money should go only to needy states.

Both teams reported sentiment to insure against federal control of educational policies. Team No. 2 found general agreement that any new federal money should be administered by the U.S. Office of Education and channeled through state educational agencies, rather than directly to localities.

Hog Prices Fall To 14-Year Low

CHICAGO (AP)—Hog prices tumbled to new 14-year low today on a heavy outpouring of offerings from this country.

Butcher hogs dropped 50 to 75 cents a hundred pounds. Top price was $11.85, paid for a 40-head lot. Not since December, 1941 have hogs failed to command a higher price than this.

Receipts totaled 25,000 head. This brought receipts for the week so far to 90,000 head, largest for four days since February 1944.

Most butchers weighing from 190 to 220 pounds sold at $10.50 to $21.25 a hundred pounds.

In another city court case, Joseph F. Scholelock, 57, of Chillicothe Route 2, was fined $15 and costs for failure to have assured clear distance. He was arrested by State Patrolman Gene Miller.

New Daughter Is 13th Child

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redding of Williamsport were still undecided today on a name for their 13th child. The 30-year old mother gave birth to their newest daughter recently in Berger Hospital.

The Reddings' other 12 children are all living.

Mrs. Redding, asked if such a large family presented anything in the way of special problems, pointed out that the children themselves help solve any unusual difficulties when they arise.

"The children are always helpful," she explained. "After all, my mother had 13 children, and my husband came from a family of nine children—so we learn to get along."

* * *

MRS. REDDING is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leucratia Boyd of Williamsport, and has always resided in that community. Redding, a contractor, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hastings Redding and was born near Waterloo.

Ages of the Redding children range up to 14 years.

Fayette Countian Repeats As Nation's 'King Of Corn'

CHICAGO (AP)—Willard C. Kirk, Jeffersonville, Fayette County, Ohio, has been named corn king of the nation for the second successive year at the International Live Stock Exposition.

Kirk won the award in competition against hundreds of the nation's finest farmers who annually seek the coveted corn grand championship. His winning sample was a variety known as WF9X3811 yelow.

The reserve corn crown was won by Sherman M. Wheeler of Rensselaer, Ind., showing Indiana 844D type.

Kirk's victory was his third at the International. He first won the title in 1951 on Indiana 844D and again in 1954 when he showed the same variety he won on Wednesday.

Earlier this year, the Fayette Countian won the title of "corn king of the world" in a separate contest.

The 1955 corn prince is Thomas Halterman, 16, of Rushville, Ind., whose sample of 844D variety was adjudged the finest of hundreds entered in competition for young grain growers. The reserve junior corn championship went to Billy Harvey, 16, of Summit, Ind., who showed the same variety.

MEANWHILE, a 986-pound Aberdeen Angus steer owned by a 16-year-old Illinois farm girl has taken top honors at the International Livestock Exposition.

Chief steer judge A. D. Weber of Kansas State College yesterday slapped the rump of the calf owned by Nancy Turner, indicating the winner of the grand championship steer award, and the freckled face girl promptly broke into tears.

"Oh, it's so wonderful," the Champaign, Ill., girl sobbed. "I'm awfully happy."

Nancy, wearing a blue blouse and denim jeans, brushed tears from her cheeks as she accepted the grand champion trophy from show officials for her steer, a summer yearling named Julius.

The steer will be auctioned tomorrow. Nancy said she plans to use the money from the sale for a college education.

Nancy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Turner, were on hand when their daughter and her steer won the prize. They operate a 320-acre grain and livestock farm.

Nancy's victory marked the third successive time that a girl has carried off the show's top award. Janice Hullinger, 17, of Manly, Iowa, won it last year. Sue White of Big Springs, Tex., won in 1953.

Nancy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Turner, were on hand when their daughter and her steer won the prize. They operate a 320-acre grain and livestock farm.

Nancy's victory marked the third successive time that a girl has carried off the show's top award. Janice Hullinger, 17, of Manly, Iowa, won it last year. Sue White of Big Springs, Tex., won in 1953.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My 17-year-old daughter's boy friend left for overseas duty with the Army last April. A month later he sent her a diamond ring and they became engaged. They were very much in love.

Since then the boy's sister (I'll call her Joyce) has done everything in her power to make my daughter miserable. For example, falsely accusing her, spitting at her, and trying to disrupt her friendships with other girls. I kept telling Hope (my daughter) to ignore these attacks, so long as her conscience was clear.

Last week Hope's fiance wrote to her, saying he had received a letter from his sister recently, and he didn't like what he head. I advised Hope to remove the engagement ring and give it to his sister—so that she would be satisfied. And to write to the boy, telling him that she had done so. Also to ask him to decide whom he believed and what he wanted.

Correct Advice?

Hope has an evening job and goes to school during the day and has bought several things for her trousseau, while also amassing a savings account. She hasn't dated or gone to school parties since Bud left in April. He is due back next Spring.

I have advised Hope not to accept his ring (again) until she finishes school, and until he is home from the Army. Do you think I advised her correctly? It seems to me if he loves her he would have faith in her. I pray I have counselled her wisely.

S. Y.

DEAR S. Y.: As somebody once said, "You can't win in a contest with a skunk." And I think that sums up the proposition of trying to get the best of Joyce's attitude towards Hope. There is something insidiously unwholesome about the inner life of a family that produces a character like Joyce, an obviously psychopathic personality.

The psychopathic personality is a nonconformist to rules of reason and decency, in close relationship. Such persons are emotionally crippled. in an obscure way that psychiatry recognizes but can't quite penetrate. Their enjoyment of life consists in trying to deface, degrade and destroy the dignity of certain other individuals—and the nicer or gentler these others are, the greater the psychopath's "kick" in harassing them.

Supposing your daughter Hope were to marry Bud (and my instinct says "Heaven forbid!" on the basis of your story), she would be putting herself in shooting range of Joyce's crackpot venom continuously thereafter. And though Bud and his parents and the balance of their kin might waken slowly to the senseless nature of Joyce's clawing, spitting, lying campaign, still that wouldn't make Joyce any different. And who, in his right mind, wants (or would permit himself) to marry into that type of nightmare?

Man Too Suspicious

And, as a further warning to Hope to beware, there is her fiance's recent disclosure of his predisposition (1) to believe the worst rather than the best, about "outsiders" to his family circle; (2) to side with his family instantly, without judicious reflection, when destructive feelings are aimed at "outsiders."

As for your advice to Hope: (1) I wouldn't have said give the ring to Joyce. Rather, take it off and put it aside, to be personally handed to Bud on his return or mailed to him if he wants it now; (2) when Bud wrote of hearing things about Hope that he didn't like, she might have answered briefly, with dignity, that her conscience is clear and her conduct impeccable. And if he cares to pursue the subject, let him investigate the source and motivation of the lies he has swallowed. Period.

You say: "It seems to me if Bud loves Hope he would have faith in her." The truth is, I gather, that Bud is a stranger to emotional security, in relation to good people. He is steeped in distrust, uncertainty and instability—in a dog-eat-dog way of life. At Hope's tender age, my advice to her is to postpone marriage at least five years, and give herself time to find a real helpmeet.

M. H.

Toledo University Given $50,000

TOLEDO (AP)—The University of Toledo has received a $50,000 gift for the creation of a department of nuclear engineering from industrialist Ward M. Canaday and Mrs. Canaday.

University President Asa S. Knowles said the contribution was intended to support the new department as a part of the college of engineering for two years. If in that time the department proves a success, Mr. and Mrs. Canaday have indicated their willingness to join with others in providing funds for the creation of a separate school of nuclear engineering.

City Income Tax Gets Toledo Nod

TOLEDO (AP)—Toledo's 1 per cent payroll-income tax was extended through 1960 by Council today.

By an 8-0 vote, with Mayor Czelusta absent, city council approved the 5-year renewal on the third and final reading of the tax ordinance. The current ordinance will expire Dec. 31 and the new one will become effective Jan. 1.

By estimates which city officials now regard as conservative, the tax will yield about $39½ million over the next five years.

Payroll Tax OKd

WARREN (AP)—The five-mill city payroll tax, due to expire Dec. 31, has been extended three more years by a 6-4 vote of the city council. The tax is expected to yield $800,000 this year.

Responsibility Of U.S. Government In Problem Pondered By Builders

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The still lively demand of many Americans for a new house—and how much responsibility the government has to help them get one—is one of today's hottest questions.

Builders, mortgage lenders, and government money managers are sharply divided on the causes of the current drop in the number of new homes being started — and whether the home building industry needs a new shot in the arm through easier credit and lower interest rates.

And today a leading New York bank comes out flatly against government attempts to set or enforce "arbitrary standards of housing."

The Guaranty Trust Co. in its December survey, out today, asks what is really meant by such words as "substandard" housing, "decent" housing, "adequate" housing, or housing "needs."

"Obviously," says the bank, "they express someone's idea of the sort of living quarters the people ought to have. In practice, they usually express the idea or ideas arrived at by some public official or board appointed by a paternalistic government to resolve, in behalf of the people, a personal question which the people are apparently presumed to be incapable of resolving for themselves."

In a free economy, the bank holds, "adequate" housing should mean only "that quantity and quality of housing which users are able and willing to buy and pay for at free-market levels of cost, in view of the other possible ways of spending their money."

The bank contends that the government shouldn't tell people how they are to be housed any more than what food to eat or what clothing to wear.

The recent decline in home building, however, has brought concern in other quarters. Builders, naturally, don't like it. Many of them blame the slowing down on the government's policy of tightening mortgage payment rules, tightening the supply of credit, and letting interest rates rise.

The Department of Commerce, on the other hand, thinks the decline will be mild. It predicts that almost as much will be spent next year as this on home building—around 16 billion dollars.

Some builders think that the cutback will be mostly in cheaper homes, with the average house buyer spending more for a new home.

Building material prices have tended to rise of late. Cement companies are raising prices. Lumber prices have firmed, partly because snow in the Pacific Northwest has hampered logging. The National Lumber Manufacturers Assn. reports that in mid-November production fell off about 12 per cent from the rate at the first of the month.

But the federal money managers think the main reason prices tend to rise is that the construction industry is operating close to capacity.

NATIONS POLES APART

THERE IS something about expeditions to the Antarctic subcontinent that appeals to the imagination. Perhaps in the past they had something like mountain climbing—magnificent because of the human effort involved for no completely utilitarian purpose.

But times have changed, says the London Daily Mail in a gloomy appraisal of the large number of expeditions heading south this winter (which is summer down there, of course). Not only is the United States sending an expedition in force under Adm. Richard E. Byrd, but others are being sent by the British Commonwealth, Russia, Argentina, Belgium, Chile, France, Norway and Japan — all separately financed.

What this amounts to is a graphic illustration of "the failure of internationalism as a force in human affairs," sighs the Daily Mail. If the nations cannot get together on surveying an area where nobody wants to live, what can be expected of internationalism elsewhere?

But the answer is given right in the editorial. The expeditions may be heading south in the name of science. But the fact that minerals such as coal, oil and uranium may exist beneath the surface of the eternal ice and snow of Antarctica makes it a field of strategy. That's why each nation is intent on making its own arrangements for exploration.

Despite worries in some circles about "internationalism" and "world federation," the Antarctic expeditions illustrate that the pressures of nationalism never seemed stronger than today. Even exploring a continent of ice and snow becomes a patriotic endeavor.

DEFENSE CATCHING UP

SECRETARY BRUCKER of the Army announces that the Nike guided missile can make contact with and destroy any aircraft, regardless of how high or how fast it flies. The Nike is now the major weapon in the nation's posture of defense.

The secretary's position is not endorsed unanimously. Other military spokesmen have said that the Nike misses some aircraft during tests. When aircraft comes barreling in carrying H-bombs, misses could be fatal.

But if Secretary Brucker's appraisal is accurate and no enemy aircraft could penetrate a Nike barrage, defense has caught up with the awful potentiality of modern offense. At one time military experts admitted that perhaps 75 or 80 per cent of attacking aircraft could get through the nation's defenses.

This progress in defense pertains to invading aircraft only. There is as yet no solution of enemy submarines, in ambush a few hundred miles off the coasts, pumping guided missiles with atomic warheads. Or, in the not distant future, of guided missiles capable of spanning oceans and dropping on targets with unerring accuracy.

It is encouraging that progress in defense has been made on one sector. But it is certainly no reason for dropping the nation's guard or easing up on efforts to achieve dependable international commitments against war.

If houses of the future will be circular, as predicted, how will they lend themselves to open-end mortgages?

These Days

I have just returned from the requiem services for Julie Pegler, the wife of Westbrook Pegler and his constant companion. She died of a heart attack which does not explain it all. Strain, tension, anxiety — these are ailments of the mind and spirit and often trouble those who are most concerned with the affairs of the world and the downward path of mankind. Such a woman as Julie Pegler must have cared deeply for her fellow-man or she wouldn't have been so deeply moved by his present plight.

The relations of Westbrook Pegler and his wife always interest his colleagues because of the obvious freedom in their companionship and their profound understanding of each other.

Peg seems to all the world to be a hard man who hits others with a loaded club; to me he has always appeared to be a sentimentalist, a humanitarian, one who sought virtues in man which were not there, one who was bitterly disappointed when he discovered that even his idols have clay feet.

His sentimentality is undoubtedly a heritage from his Irish ancestors but also comes from his close association with Julie Pegler, as fine a character among women as could be found anywhere.

On this same day, I read that my friend Ray Vir Den died, also of a heart ailment. Ray was young and full of life—an idealist who could work himself into real anger over the turpitude of public officials. He must have been brought up to believe in the honesty of men, for he never could quite get over the things he discovered in public life. The son of a missionary minister who went from Indiana to Oklahoma to preach the gospel, Ray believed in the essential goodness in man, otherwise he could not have been so shocked by his degeneration.

As president of the Dutch Treat Club, he followed the tradition set by Clarence Budington Kelland, which was to speak without fear, insulting regularly those who had grown important in their own eyes and stuffy in the eyes of onlookers. No one was ever publicly annoyed by Ray Vir Den's comments although some, on their return to privacy, must have wondered whether what he said, might not be exactly true. Somehow, this man, who, tried hard to be a buffoon, could not help becoming a conscience.

Few men who pass away will be more remembered, for his was a charming personality as ungracious as he tried to make it. For this man, as hard as he pretended to be, many men had a deep affection and respect. The Dutch Treat Club in New York serves to provide an interlude in the busy lives of its members who like its easy-going atmosphere and who will miss Vir Den for longer than most men are missed.

On the same day, I read the obituary notice of Hallett Abend who had served the "New York Times" in China during many years. He was a contemporary of mine in that country and for many years we saw each other daily. Abend had a penchant for scholarship and had he not been diverted to journalism, he might have become a professor of history or Asiatic languages which he mastered with ease. He brought these faculties to reporting and therefore, what he wrote was serious and significant. He, too, died of a heart attack.

SYNOPSIS

Newly married Lora accompanies her husband, Wade Tyler, to his family home on Staten Island after nursing him back to health from a serious wound he received while fighting as a Union soldier. She meets Wade's autocratic mother, Amanda Tyler, and Jemmy, son of Wade and his dead first wife, Virginia.

CHAPTER TWO

MRS. TYLER'S chair was wheeled to the table and Ellie slipped extra cushions under her. Wade pulled out Lora's chair and touched her shoulder lightly as she took it. The old lady's quick eyes did not miss the gesture and if anything they grew a degree cooler. Lora looked quickly away at the still-life painting which hung above the sideboard—a stiff and depressing representation of dead fish and game. A forbidding picture, she thought, and wondered if Wade could be persuaded to brighten the room with something gayer in spirit.

"Why isn't that boy down, Ellie?" Mrs. Tyler asked the maid as soon as they were settled.

"Gracious, ma'am. I've called him three times at least," Ellie defended herself. "I don't know what he's dawdling about."

Wade mentioned soothingly that it was still only five to 8, but his mother merely nodded to him and bowed her head for grace. Wade murmured the words of a rather long grace, during which Jemmy sidled into his place.

"Good morning, Jemmy," his father said when they all looked up. "It's good to see you again. I'm sorry to hear that you were ill yesterday."

Jemmy only mumbled a reply, giving no sign that he had not seen his father for nearly a year. His grandmother told him sharply to speak up and Lora longed to say something warm and friendly to the boy, but the room forbade it. The heavy wine-colored wallpaper seemed to suppress any effort at cheer, and the dead game bird looked at them glassily, with its neck drooping over a table edge. Lora managed a smile in Jemmy's direction, but he looked soberly away without returning it.

It was a relief when Ellie arrived with a heaping platter of wheat cakes and ham, hot biscuits and coffee. When their cups had been filled and Jemmy instructed to drink up his milk and no nonsense, Mrs. Tyler turned directly to her son.

"There is no necessity for rush, of course, but I've been wondering how soon you will be able to return to the bank."

Wade did not look at her. He cut a piece of ham carefully before he answered.

"Not for a while, mother. The trip to New York is too difficult for me at present."

"You are, of course, planning to take your rightful place again in your grandfather's bank?" Mrs. Tyler pressed the matter further.

"This is what I have planned for, counted on ever since Wade was born," Mrs. Tyler explained to Lora. "That he should follow in my father's footsteps, do the things I could not do as well because of the handicap of being a woman."

Wade toyed idly with the food on his plate and his eyes did not meet his mother's.

"Mother, I wonder if you'll agree to discuss the details of Lora's wardrobe with her some time today? I know she'll need quite a few new things."

His mother nodded vigorously and reached for another biscuit. "She does indeed. Naturally I will supervise the matter."

"Lay your hands on the table," the old lady said to Lora.

Lora placed her rather square, rough-skinned hands palms down on the white tablecloth where the broken nails and reddened knuckles looked more unladylike than ever.

Mrs. Tyler inspected them in silence until Wade came gently to his wife's defense.

"She can take better care of them now, mother. After all, she has been working very hard looking after me."

Lora returned her disgraced hands to her lap mutely. Once more Jemmy caused a diversion and, if he had seemed more friendly, Lora might have suspected that he did it deliberately to draw attention away from her discomfort.

Wade pushed his mother's chair across the hall and Ellie began to clear off the dishes. For a few moments Lora lingered in the diningroom with Jemmy, her attention again upon the depressing still life of dead game over the sideboard.

"That one-eyed fellow worries me," she confided to Jemmy. "We don't dare to laugh in this room with him watching us. "What do you say we plot his downfall?"

The boy gave her a shocked look and bolted out of the room so that she could not tell whether he understood her whimsy or not. She made a little face at the glassy eyed bird and went to join Wade in the hall as he came out of his mother's room.

"I've got a few things to set in order," she said, "and then I'll come down to see your mother."

"Good. She wants to help you, Lora. But sometimes her ways are more autocratic than she realizes."

"I don't mind," Lora said. "Perhaps this afternoon I'll go for a walk through the woods. I'd like to climb the hill and—"

He spoke quickly. "Not up the hill, please. I'd rather you stayed out of the upper woods, Lora."

She could only stare in surprise. "But why, Wade? I've always walked a great deal at home. I could never stay cooped up in a house all day."

He looked so strangely unhappy that she put a hand on his arm, and he covered it with his own scarred palm. "Walk along the lane and in the downhill area as much as you like. But I'll be happier if you stay away from the uphill side. Some day I'll tell you why. But not now, Lora. I don't want to talk about it."

He took his hand from hers and his eyes were cool as if he saw her as a stranger. Without further comment he swung himself on his crutch toward the door of the library, calling for Ellie to come build him a fire.

Recent Discoveries Relieve Minor Ills

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

NEW methods of treating ear, nose and throat infections, cold sores and fever blisters are in the news this month. And there is news of a new type elastic stocking, too.

A new drug, Clorpactin, derived from chlorine, has three definite advantages over antibiotics in treating infections of the ear, nose and throat, according to Dr. Martin Zwerling of New York.

Improvement Noted

In a recent issue of the A.M.A. Archives of Otolaryngology, he reports that 410 out of 642 patients were much improved after Clorpactin treatment.

These tests show, he says, that the drug is equally effective against all types of bacteria and apparently has no untoward side effects.

Two other researchers report that Aureomycin chlortetracycline (do not try to pronounce it) and the new experimental antibiotic, puromycin, attacks the virus of herpes simplex, responsible for cold sores and fever blisters.

Dr. H. L. Ormsby and Ruth G. MacKneson say their report is based on tests made with mice.

A new type resilient nylon stocking was found to be helpful in improving minor varicosities and relieving fatigue and cramping of leg muscles.

Made by a recently developed process, the stockings were tested on nurses, obstetric patients and patients with gynecologic disorders with beneficial results.

Since they're made of nylon they are of a lighter weight and therefore look better than the customary elastic hose. And they were found to be durable and to give good service, too.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. M. B.: What causes buzzing and ringing in the ears?

Answer: This condition may be due to anemia, kidney disease, accumulation of wax in the ear, or an infection in the tube connecting the ear with the mouth.

A physical examination is necessary to determine the cause of this condition.

World: A Merry-Go-Round

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The world has always been a merry-go-round. It still is.

Looking at the present merry-go-round, what do we find? Let us go around the world, starting with the American.

The American doesn't feel the need of war. He is enjoying the highest level of individual and national prosperity ever achieved in the history of mankind. To defend that happiness, however, he feels at heart ready, willing and able to deal death to any quarter of the globe that threatens him. He hopes he'll never have to fight again, but he'll fight. And he'll fight on.

The English, following their modern pattern, concede in advance that their situation is hopeless militarily. They ar reconciled to a fight in which they will never ever really give up.

The Frenchman, individual as ever, takes pride in his empire overseas but refuses to be drafted to defend it. As his hired soldiers from abroad dwindle, his empire will dwindle. Meanwhile, he'll claim a hold on the world's culture.

The German, having learned his lesson, is as always ready to fill the nearest gap of power, then fall to pondering whether, after all, he couldn't really win a world if he could fight in only one direction at a time.

The Russian is trying to do everything. He is trying to be, above all, militarily self contained. He wants to keep a foot on Germany, build housing for his masses, create and maintain the world's largest war machine, and pat Red China on the back at the same time he feels for a weak spot he may use later.

NATIONS POLES APART

THERE IS something about expeditions to the Antarctic subcontinent that appeals to the imagination. Perhaps in the past they had something like mountain climbing—magnificent because of the human effort involved for no completely utilitarian purpose.

But times have changed, says the London Daily Mail in a gloomy appraisal of the large number of expeditions heading south this winter (which is summer down there, of course). Not only is the United States sending an expedition in force under Adm. Richard E. Byrd, but others are being sent by the British Commonwealth, Russia, Argentina, Belgium, Chile, France, Norway and Japan — all separately financed.

What this amounts to is a graphic illustration of "the failure of internationalism as a force in human affairs," sighs the Daily Mail. If the nations cannot get together on surveying an area where nobody wants to live, what can be expected of internationalism elsewhere?

But the answer is given right in the editorial. The expeditions may be heading south in the name of science. But the fact that minerals such as coal, oil and uranium may exist beneath the surface of the eternal ice and snow of Antarctica makes it a field of strategy. That's why each nation is intent on making its own arrangements for exploration.

Despite worries in some circles about "internationalism" and "world federation," the Antarctic expeditions illustrate that the pressures of nationalism never seemed stronger than today. Even exploring a continent of ice and snow becomes a patriotic endeavor.

DEFENSE CATCHING UP

SECRETARY BRUCKER of the Army announces that the Nike guided missile can make contact with and destroy any aircraft, regardless of how high or how fast it flies. The Nike is now the major weapon in the nation's posture of defense.

The secretary's position is not endorsed unanimously. Other military spokesmen have said that the Nike misses some aircraft during tests. When aircraft comes barreling in carrying H-bombs, misses could be fatal.

But if Secretary Brucker's appraisal is accurate and no enemy aircraft could penetrate a Nike barrage, defense has caught up with the awful potentiality of modern offense. At one time military experts admitted that perhaps 75 or 80 per cent of attacking aircraft could get through the nation's defenses.

This progress in defense pertains to invading aircraft only. There is as yet no solution of enemy submarines, in ambush a few hundred miles off the coasts, pumping guided missiles with atomic warheads. Or, in the not distant future, of guided missiles capable of spanning oceans and dropping on targets with unerring accuracy.

It is encouraging that progress in defense has been made on one sector. But it is certainly no reason for dropping the nation's guard or easing up on efforts to achieve dependable international commitments against war.

If houses of the future will be circular, as predicted, how will they lend themselves to open-end mortgages?

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

I have just returned from the requiem services for Julie Pegler, the wife of Westbrook Pegler and his constant companion. She died of a heart attack which does not explain it all. Strain, tension, anxiety — these are ailments of the mind and spirit and often trouble those who are most concerned with the affairs of the world and the downward path of mankind. Such a woman as Julie Pegler must have cared deeply for her fellow-man or she wouldn't have been so deeply moved by his present plight.

The relations of Westbrook Pegler and his wife always interest his colleagues because of the obvious freedom in their companionship and their profound understanding of each other.

Peg seems to all the world to be a hard man who hits others with a loaded club; to me he has always appeared to be a sentimentalist, a humanitarian, one who sought virtues in man which were not there, one who was bitterly disappointed when he discovered that even his idols have clay feet.

His sentimentality is undoubtedly a heritage from his Irish ancestors but also comes from his close association with Julie Pegler, as fine a character among women as could be found anywhere.

On this same day, I read that my friend Ray Vir Den died, also of a heart ailment. Ray was young and full of life—an idealist who could work himself into real anger over the turpitude of public officials. He must have been brought up to believe in the honesty of men, for he never could quite get over the things he discovered in public life. The son of a missionary minister who went from Indiana to Oklahoma to preach the gospel, Ray believed in the essential goodness in man, otherwise he could not have been so shocked by his degeneration.

As president of the Dutch Treat Club, he followed the tradition set by Clarence Budington Kelland, which was to speak without fear, insulting regularly those who had grown important in their own eyes and stuffy in the eyes of onlookers. No one was ever publicly annoyed by Ray Vir Den's comments although some, on their return to privacy, must have wondered whether what he said, might not be exactly true. Somehow, this man, who, tried hard to be a buffoon, could not help becoming a conscience.

Few men who pass away will be more remembered, for his was a charming personality as ungracious as he tried to make it. For this man, as hard as he pretended to be, many men had a deep affection and respect. The Dutch Treat Club in New York serves to provide an interlude in the busy lives of its members who like its easy-going atmosphere and who will miss Vir Den for longer than most men are missed.

On the same day, I read the obituary notice of Hallett Abend who had served the "New York Times" in China during many years. He was a contemporary of mine in that country and for many years we saw each other daily. Abend had a penchant for scholarship and had he not been diverted to journalism, he might have become a professor of history or Asiatic languages which he mastered with ease. He brought these faculties to reporting and therefore, what he wrote was serious and significant. He, too, died of a heart attack.

SYNOPSIS

Newly married Lora accompanies her husband, Wade Tyler, to his family home on Staten island after nursing him back to health from a serious wound he received while fighting as a Union soldier. She meets Wade's autocratic mother, Amanda Tyler, and Jemmy, son of Wade and his dead first wife, Virginia.

CHAPTER TWO

MRS. TYLER'S chair was wheeled to the table and Ellie slipped extra cushions under her. Wade pulled out Lora's chair and touched her shoulder lightly as she took it. The old lady's quick eyes did not miss the gesture and if anything they grew a degree cooler. Lora looked quickly away at the still-life painting which hung above the sideboard—a stiff and depressing representation of dead fish and game. A forbidding picture, she thought, and wondered if Wade could be persuaded to brighten the room with something gayer in spirit.

"Why isn't that boy down, Ellie?" Mrs. Tyler asked the maid as soon as they were settled.

"Gracious, ma'am. I've called him three times at least," Ellie defended herself. "I don't know what he's dawdling about."

Wade mentioned soothingly that it was still only five to 8, but his mother merely nodded to him and bowed her head for grace. Wade murmured the words of a rather long grace, during which Jemmy sidled into his place.

"Good morning, Jemmy," his father said when they all looked up. "It's good to see you again. I'm sorry to hear that you were ill yesterday."

Jemmy only mumbled a reply, giving no sign that he had not seen his father for nearly a year. His grandmother told him sharply to speak up and Lora longed to say something warm and friendly to the boy, but the room forbade it. The heavy wine-colored wallpaper seemed to suppress any effort at cheer, and the dead game bird looked at them glassily, with its neck drooping over a table edge. Lora managed a smile in Jemmy's direction, but he looked soberly away without returning it.

It was a relief when Ellie arrived with a heaping platter of wheat cakes and ham, hot biscuits and coffee. When their cups had been filled and Jemmy instructed to drink up his milk and no nonsense, Mrs. Tyler turned directly to her son.

"There is no necessity for rush, of course, but I've been wondering how soon you will be able to return to the bank."

Wade did not look at her. He cut a piece of ham carefully before he answered.

"Not for a while, mother. The trip to New York is too difficult for me at present."

"You are, of course, planning to take your rightful place again in your grandfather's bank?" Mrs. Tyler pressed the matter further.

"This is what I have planned for, counted on ever since Wade was born," Mrs. Tyler explained to Lora. "That he should follow in my father's footsteps, do the things I could not do as well because of the handicap of being a woman."

Wade toyed idly with the food on his plate and his eyes did not meet his mother's.

"Mother, I wonder if you'll agree to discuss the details of Lora's wardrobe with her some time today? I know she'll need quite a few new things."

His mother nodded vigorously and reached for another biscuit. "She does indeed. Naturally I will supervise the matter."

"Lay your hands on the table," the old lady said to Lora.

Lora placed her rather square, rough-skinned hands palms down on the white tablecloth where the broken nails and reddened knuckles looked more unladylike than ever.

Mrs. Tyler inspected them in silence until Wade came gently to his wife's defense.

"She can take better care of them now, mother. After all, she has been working very hard looking after me."

Lora returned her disgraced hands to her lap mutely. Once more Jemmy caused a diversion and, if he had seemed more friendly, Lora might have suspected that he did it deliberately to draw attention away from her discomfort.

Wade pushed his mother's chair across the hall and Ellie began to clear off the dishes. For a few moments Lora lingered in the diningroom with Jemmy, her attention again upon the depressing still life of dead game over the sideboard.

"That one-eyed fellow worries me," she confided to Jemmy. "We don't dare to laugh in this room with him watching us. "What do you say we plot his downfall?"

The boy gave her a shocked look and bolted out of the room so that she could not tell whether he understood her whimsy or not. She made a little face at the glassy eyed bird and went to join Wade in the hall as he came out of his mother's room.

"I've got a few things to set in order," she said, "and then I'll come down to see your mother."

"Good. She wants to help you, Lora. But sometimes her ways are more autocratic than she realizes."

"I don't mind," Lora said. "Perhaps this afternoon I'll go for a walk through the woods. I'd like to climb the hill and—"

He spoke quickly. "Not up the hill, please. I'd rather you stayed out of the upper woods, Lora."

She could only stare in surprise. "But why, Wade? I've always walked a great deal at home. I could never stay cooped up in a house all day."

He looked so strangely unhappy that she put a hand on his arm, and he covered it with his own scarred palm. "Walk along the lane and in the downhill area as much as you like. But I'll be happier if you stay away from the uphill side. Some day I'll tell you why. But not now, Lora. I don't want to talk about it."

He took his hand from hers and his eyes were cool as if he saw her as a stranger. Without further comment he swung himself on his crutch toward the door of the library, calling for Ellie to come build him a fire.

Recent Discoveries Relieve Minor Ills

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

NEW methods of treating ear, nose and throat infections, cold sores and fever blisters are in the news this month. And there is news of a new type elastic stocking, too.

A new drug, Clorpactin, derived from chlorine, has three definite advantages over antibiotics in treating infections of the ear, nose and throat, according to Dr. Martin Zwerling of New York.

Improvement Noted

In a recent issue of the A.M.A. Archives of Otolaryngology, he reports that 410 out of 642 patients were much improved after Clorpactin treatment.

These tests show, he says, that the drug is equally effective against all types of bacteria and apparently has no untoward side effects.

Two other researchers report that Aureomycin chlortetracycline (do not try to pronounce it) and the new experimental antibiotic, puromycin, attacks the virus of herpes simplex, responsible for cold sores and fever blisters.

Dr. H. L. Ormsby and Ruth G. MacKneson say their report is based on tests made with mice.

A new type resilient nylon stocking was found to be helpful in improving minor varicosities and relieving fatigue and cramping of leg muscles.

Made by a recently developed process, the stockings were tested on nurses, obstetric patients and patients with gynecologic disorders with beneficial results.

Since they're made of nylon they are of a lighter weight and therefore look better than the customary elastic hose. And they were found to be durable and to give good service, too.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. M. B.: What causes buzzing and ringing in the ears?

Answer: This condition may be due to anemia, kidney disease, accumulation of wax in the ear, or an infection in the tube connecting the ear with the mouth.

A physical examination is necessary to determine the cause of this condition.

World: A Merry-Go-Round

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The world has always been a merry-go-round. It still is.

Looking at the present merry-go-round, what do we find? Let us go around the world, starting with the American.

The American doesn't feel the need of war. He is enjoying the highest level of individual and national prosperity ever achieved in the history of mankind. To defend that happiness, however, he feels at heart ready, willing and able to deal death to any quarter of the globe that threatens him. He hopes he'll never have to fight again, but he'll fight. And he'll fight on.

The English, following their modern pattern, concede in advance that their situation is hopeless militarily. They ar reconciled to a fight in which they will never ever really give up.

The Frenchman, individual as ever, takes pride in his empire overseas but refuses to be drafted to defend it. As his hired soldiers from abroad dwindle, his empire will dwindle. Meanwhile, he'll claim a hold on the world's culture.

The German, having learned his lesson, is as always ready to fill the nearest gap of power, then fall to pondering whether, after all, he couldn't really win a world if he could fight in only one direction at a time.

The Russian is trying to do everything. He is trying to be, above all, militarily self contained. He wants to keep a foot on Germany, build housing for his masses, create and maintain the world's largest war machine, and pat Red China on the back at the same time he feels for a weak spot he may use later.

Crowded India yearns to be the fulcrum, the balance point between the East and West, but vast China holds out the crimson hand of bargaining.

Industrious, market - hungry Japan, bounding back fast, reaches toward China, meanwhile sells in America.

In America a vast war machine is maintained and eternally refurbished, and new atomic power reactors are steadily built.

Everywhere in the world people are building in hopes of peace and worrying about war.

This is the merry-go-round. So it has usually been before. So it will probably be as long as one people or one country fears another.

Prof. Rejects Old Marriage Theory

Beliefs that men and women are attracted to each other by opposite characteristics and that married life makes them more alike are nothing more than old wives tales, a University of Michigan professor contends.

Dr. Lowell Kelly, past president of the American Psychological Assn., says research shows "husbands and wives were no more alike after 20 years of marriage than they were at the beginning."

Dr. Kelly also says that although he has been unable to uncover evidence that opposites attract each other he "could think of nothing more boring than to come home to my psychological twin."

Mrs. W. Delong Shows Christmas Displays At Meet

Mrs. Wayne DeLong discussed Christmas decorations when the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Leo Davis.

Mrs. DeLong presented several ideas on Christmas decorations in which she advised early preparation of materials, gathering evergreens, painting branches and making candles.

She showed several arrangements and suggested places for their use in the home.

She used a number of homemade candles she had prepared, with the assistance of Mrs. Marvin Jones. Of special interest was a Christmas tree candle made entirely of paraffin and glitter.

Exhibits of Thanksgiving arrangements were judged by popular vote and Mrs. DeLong was awarded first place, Mrs. Marvin Jones, second, and third to Mrs. Wayne H. DeLong.

Mrs. James Maloney was accepted as a new member.

A committee was named to publicize the home decorating contest which the club is sponsoring for its Christmas project.

Mrs. Wayne DeLong was appointed December chairman and she will supervise seasonal arrangements for the Kingston library which will be made by club members.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Fisher.

The next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 27 and will be the annual covered dish supper and guest night for husbands.

Ashville Community Chorus Gives Yule Concert Sunday

Brobst To Conduct 85-Voice Group

The Ashville Community Chorus will herald the glad tidings of Christmas at a concert to be held at 8 p. m. Sunday in the Ashville High School auditorium.

The group will sing the timeless Christmas carols which have been a part of the season for countless years and many other favored yuletide melodies.

Guest Conductor will be Mr. Fred Brobst, who teaches at Capital University and who is a former teacher in the Ashville schools.

The 85-voice mixed chorus will be accompanied by pianists Miss Miriam Ward of Robtown and Miss Sarah Jane Hedges of Ashville. A brass quartet will also accompany the chorus on several numbers.

The chorus consists of members of various church choirs in the Ashville community and surrounding area as well as interested individuals. Churches they represent are: EUB, Lutheran, and Methodist in Ashville; S. Bloomfield Charge, Hedges Chapel, and St. Paul's Lutheran in Lockbourne.

This will be the group's second concert, the first being given during the Fourth of July celebration last summer in Ashville. The choir was organized about that time by choir directors of the various churches with Mrs. Donald Flierl serving as chairman.

Those interested in joining the choir may do so by contacting any member or by attending rehearsals scheduled for 8 p. m. tonight and 3:30 p. m. Sunday in the school auditorium.

Prof. Rejects Old Marriage Theory

Beliefs that men and women are attracted to each other by opposite characteristics and that married life makes them more alike are nothing more than old wives tales, a University of Michigan professor contends.

Dr. Lowell Kelly, past president of the American Psychological Assn., says research shows "husbands and wives were no more alike after 20 years of marriage than they were at the beginning."

Dr. Kelly also says that although he has been unable to uncover evidence that opposites attract each other he "could think of nothing more boring than to come home to my psychological twin."

Mrs. W. Delong Shows Christmas Displays At Meet

Mrs. Wayne DeLong discussed Christmas decorations when the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Leo Davis.

Mrs. DeLong presented several ideas on Christmas decorations in which she advised early preparation of materials, gathering evergreens, painting branches and making candles.

She showed several arrangements and suggested places for their use in the home.

She used a number of homemade candles she had prepared, with the assistance of Mrs. Marvin Jones. Of special interest was a Christmas tree candle made entirely of paraffin and glitter.

Exhibits of Thanksgiving arrangements were judged by popular vote and Mrs. DeLong was awarded first place, Mrs. Marvin Jones, second, and third to Mrs. Wayne H. DeLong.

Mrs. James Maloney was accepted as a new member.

A committee was named to publicize the home decorating contest which the club is sponsoring for its Christmas project.

Mrs. Wayne DeLong was appointed December chairman and she will supervise seasonal arrangements for the Kingston library which will be made by club members.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Fisher.

The next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 27 and will be the annual covered dish supper and guest night for husbands.

Columbus Westinghouse Tiff Labeled 'Company Inspired'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A union representative says violence at the struck Columbus Westinghouse plant was "company inspired." But Plant Works Manager E. L. Smith replied the union statement is "absolutely ridiculous."

T. J. Fitzpatrick, International Union of Electrical Workers representative, said yesterday violence at the plant "showed to what extreme they (Westinghouse) would go to get an injuction against this union."

From New York City, Charles H. Clark, president of Columbus Local 746, IUE-CIO, told the Ohio State Journal by phone:

"God only knows I have done all I could to keep things peaceful, and to keep these things (acts of violence) from happening. There's not the first rumble in the country on a picket line except in Columbus."

Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds called for another hearing today on the company's request for an injunction against Local 746 to limit picketing.

John A. Eckler, Westinghouse attorney, said the hearing is for the purpose of presenting "evidence of incidents of violence" since workers began returning to their jobs.

Fitzpatrick denied the union was responsible for any reported incidents.

"Our people are peaceful and law abiding citizens," said the IUE official. "Westinghouse is now engaged in a smear campaign against its own employes."

Countering that, Smith replied it is the "new members of his (Clark's) local who are participating in acts of violence. . . ."

The company executive last night said "more than 300 members of Local 746" have returned to work. Earlier yesterday, when the company placed the number of returnees at 255, the union said the number was only 47.

Judge Reynolds two days ago had postponed indefinitely a company request for a temporary injunction limiting picketing. The judge said it was better to have a voluntary curb on picketing than a court order.

But yesterday the Franklin County sheriff's office reported returning workers complained of threats and vandalism.

Few of those who attempt to report a foreign country succeed in conveying the nature of its people, the character of its historic struggle to the reader. Most foreign correspondents were trained in the tradition that if man bites dog, it is news, when actually the essence of understanding is a knowledge of the usual and the unchangeable.

Abend developed a deep and realistic grasp of the nature of the Chinese. In a revolutionary era, when leadership rises from the gutter among a people who are accustomed to the leadership of gentlemen and scholars, understanding was difficult and those American correspondents who saw only the changes and never the permanent, really understood nothing. Abend's genius is that he caught the permanence of China, perhaps the most continuous civilization in the history of man.

And so, the heart gave out among these three and we shall, some of us, pay for another cardiogram and we shall be tapped and blood-pressured and given pills. But what we really need is peace of mind, peace and hope. These alone can save our hearts from the tensions and despairs of our day.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were strong indications today that the President's White House Conference on Education will recommend federal aid to the nation's schools, at least for building new classrooms.

But if it's as vague on that as it was Wednesday on why there are not enough classrooms, it will leave the question high in the air.

Federal aid for schools is the hottest question facing the men and women who came here from the 48 states and territories for this meeting which ends today. It's possible they'll explode over it.

But they were far from explosive Wednesday when they sat around 166 tables, exchanged ideas on why they don't have enough schools, and then approved a report which was a consensus of what they felt and thought.

That report was so careful, and long-winded, it looked like a diplomatic pronouncement by the State Department at one of those times when it wants to make a statement for the record without being very positive about anything.

This was what the report said: "No state represented has a demonstrated financial incapacity to build the schools it will need during the next five years. But, with the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

Boiled down, this said: No state represented at the conference had shown it couldn't afford to pay for the classrooms it needed. Just because they hadn't shown they couldn't afford it, this didn't mean they could afford it

Then the conference left the door open for itself by adding another sentence:

"Some territories and a few states may need outside financial assistance."

With that addition the conference got itself on record as saying that if the states ever got around to building the schools they need, some might be able to pay their own way and maybe some couldn't.

But the report wasn't clear at all when it said, "With the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

Who was being shot at there? The home-state politicians? Or the people back home for not putting enough heat on their state and local politicians to get the needed classrooms?

Top Cop Suspended

SANDUSKY (AP) — City Manager Karl H. Kugel yesterday suspended Police Chief Russell A. Thom for 30 days without pay for "failure of good behavior" at the policeman's ball last Saturday.

Jail Bird Issues Call For A Mate

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Robert D. Foster, one eye on the future and one on his cell, sent the following letter to the local press:

"I am a lonely boy in jail here and have decided to propose to any girl or marry her here in jail, so if any of you lonely girls want to hook up with a jail bird just drop me a line."

Foster is being held for court action on a number of charges, including forgery, illegal whisky distilling and obtaining property under false pretenses.

Philippine Storms Leave 128 Dead

MANILA (AP)—Toll of an unseasonal tropical storm has risen to 128 dead, scores missing and widespread destruction in the southern and central Philippines.

Manila Daily Mirror correspondents said 80 persons were lost in the sinking of six fishing vessels and motorboats.

The storm was over the sea about 150 miles east of Manila today. Unofficial estimates of damage exceeded $2 million.

McCarthy's Postal Snafu Now Settled

WASHINGTON (AP)—A snafu over the appointment of an acting postmaster at Appleton, Wis., the home town of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), apparently has been settled.

Postmaster General Summerfield, who usually does not figure publicly in such matters, says the job will be filled temporarily by Edward R. Pirner, Appleton's assistant postmaster.

But preceding Summerfield's announcement this took place:

McCarthy's office announced last week that Thomas Miller, 57, has been appointed the acting postmaster. McCarthy had recommended him to replace the present postmaster, Stephen D. Balliet, who is retiring.

Miller, a former tavern keeper, has a record of two convictions for violating state gambling laws and one for violating the prohibition act.

On Monday a Postoffice Department spokesman reported that contrary to the announcement from McCarthy's office, Miller had not been appointed.

Summerfield said Miller "lacks the minimum requirements established by the Civil Service Commission and that the Postoffice Department for such appointments."

McCarthy had no comment.

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were strong indications today that the President's White House Conference on Education will recommend federal aid to the nation's schools, at least for building new classrooms.

But if it's as vague on that as it was Wednesday on why there are not enough classrooms, it will leave the question high in the air.

Federal aid for schools is the hottest question facing the men and women who came here from the 48 states and territories for this meeting which ends today. It's possible they'll explode over it.

But they were far from explosive Wednesday when they sat around 166 tables, exchanged ideas on why they don't have enough schools, and then approved a report which was a consensus of what they felt and thought.

Supreme Court About To Hire A Housekeeper

New Assistant Due To Take Work Load From Chief Justice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court is about to hire a housekeeper of sorts.

Officially he will be known as an administrative assistant. His main duties will be to take much of the non-judicial work load off the shoulders of Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt.

The last Legislature created the post at the behest of Weygandt and the State Bar Assn. and appropriated $8,300 a year for salary.

Weygandt said judges of the seven-member court have interviewed a number of applicants. He indicated they might settle on an attorney for the new supervisory job within a few days.

Judges emphasized that the administrative assistant would take no part in judicial decisions. The law creating the post said:

"The administrative assistant of the Supreme Court shall under the supervision and direction of the Supreme Court:

"A. Examine the state of the dockets of the courts of record. Determine the need for assistance by any such court and report the same to the chief justice of the Supreme Court.

"B. Make recommendations to the chief justice . . . relating to the assignment of judges where courts of record are in need of assistance to carry out the direction of the chief justice . . . as to the assignment of judges and to attend to such other matters as may be assigned by the Supreme Court."

Court sources said the assistant could be expected to bring about more uniform operation of lower courts and encourage them to keep their dockets current.

Part of the assistant's duties will be to report to the Supreme Court on the failure of lower courts to prevent delays in disposing of cases. Some Cleveland courts are as much as 25 months behind in their dockets.

Without referring to any specific situation, the chief justice said he knew "of no better way to deny justice than to delay it."

Besides scores of municipal courts, those of record include probate and common pleas courts in all 88 counties and nine appellate courts.

Chief Justice Weygandt has estimated that administrative duties of the high court take about one-third of his time. Because he also writes as many opinions as other judges, Weygandt often works past midnight to keep his desk clear. For that he receives an extra $600 annually.

Weygandt resigned about a year ago because of overwork and underpay. But under the urging of Gov. Frank J. Lausche and others he withdrew the resignation a month later and will serve out his fourth six-year term that ends Dec. 31, 1956.

He has indicated he will seek re-election. Success at the polls would give him an automatic salary increase voted by the Legislature in 1955. Weygandt could not receive the increase because of a ban against pay raises for public officials during their terms.

Supreme Court About To Hire A Housekeeper

New Assistant Due To Take Work Load From Chief Justice

Officially he will be known as an administrative assistant. His main duties will be to take much of the non-judicial work load off the shoulders of Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt.

The last Legislature created the post at the behest of Weygandt and the State Bar Assn. and appropriated $8,300 a year for salary.

Weygandt said judges of the seven-member court have interviewed a number of applicants. He indicated they might settle on an attorney for the new supervisory job within a few days.

Judges emphasized that the administrative assistant would take no part in judicial decisions. The law creating the post said:

"The administrative assistant of the Supreme Court shall under the supervision and direction of the Supreme Court:

"A. Examine the state of the dockets of the courts of record. Determine the need for assistance by any such court and report the same to the chief justice of the Supreme Court.

"B. Make recommendations to the chief justice . . . relating to the assignment of judges where courts of record are in need of assistance to carry out the direction of the chief justice . . . as to the assignment of judges and to attend to such other matters as may be assigned by the Supreme Court."

Court sources said the assistant could be expected to bring about more uniform operation of lower courts and encourage them to keep their dockets current.

Part of the assistant's duties will be to report to the Supreme Court on the failure of lower courts to prevent delays in disposing of cases. Some Cleveland courts are as much as 25 months behind in their dockets.

Without referring to any specific situation, the chief justice said he knew "of no better way to deny justice than to delay it."

Besides scores of municipal courts, those of record include probate and common pleas courts in all 88 counties and nine appellate courts.

Chief Justice Weygandt has estimated that administrative duties of the high court take about one-third of his time. Because he also writes as many opinions as other judges, Weygandt often works past midnight to keep his desk clear. For that he receives an extra $600 annually.

College Cagers Set For Start Of New Season

LaSalle and Dayton Slated To Open Card With Games Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lasalle without Tom Gola, Dayton without Johnny Horan and North Carolina State with Ron Shavlik take to the courts tonight as another long college basketball season gets under way.

Lasalle, Dayton and North Carolina State are just part of the mob that gets the collegians rolling in their first big weekend of the season—but they are the only representatives of the top 10 teams of last season to play tonight.

San Francisco, No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll last season and the NCAA champion, opens tomorrow night against Chico State.

Lasalle, with three-time All America Gola graduated and now a pro, warms up against Millersville (Pa.) in its opener under new Coach Jim Pollard, the former pro standout.

Lasalle, ranked No. 3 behind San Francisco and Kentucky in last season's final poll, got a big jolt Wednesday when Bob Maples, one of its returning veterans, broke an ankle in practice. He'll be out two months.

North Carolina State, in good standing after a season on probation by the NCAA, is back in force. The No. 4 team of 1954-'55 opens against Florida State with Shavlik, second-team All America who came into his own in scoring and rebounding, topping a club that lost only two from last season's staring five and is expected to make the big noise in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Dayton, the NIT runner-up and No. 9 in the final poll, is rebuilding with Jack Sallee and Chris Harris lost by graduation along with Horan. The new squad gets a test from touring Pepperdine tonight.

Most of the other members of the final top 10 get going Friday and Saturday. In addition to San Francisco, Marquette's No. 7 Warriors, the big surprise of 1954-'55, opens Friday against St. Norbert; and Oregon State plays Oregon in a non-Pacific Coast Conference opener.

Saturday, Kentucky's No. 2 Wildcats meet Louisiana State; Iowa, No. 5 and the Big Ten champ, plays Nebraska of the Big Seven; and Utah No. 7 and the Skyline king, opens against Wichita.

Notre Dame, among the better independents, starts shooting tonight against Detroit DePaul makes a shakedown run against Illinois Wesleyan.

Basilio Cops Second TKO From DeMarco

Basilio, the 28-year-old Canastota, N. Y., gamester, rallied from DeMarco's stinging punches last night to repeat his June TKO of the Boston challenger in the 12th round.

The time was 1:54, just two seconds longer than it had taken him at Syracuse six months earlier. Both fighters weighed 145½ for the nationally televised title scrap in Boston Garden.

After he had knocked down DeMarco for an eight count with a smashing right to the jaw, then flattened him for good with withering combinations in the 12th, Basilio revealed he had hurt his left hand in the second round.

That sore hand may make the patient Saxton wait even longer for his title shot. Saxton, who lost the championship to DeMarco here April 1, has since waived his contract return - bout priority for both of the Basilio-DeMarco slugfests. The contract for the latest match called for the winner to meet Saxton within 60 days.

After 43 Defeats, Team Finally Wins

WABASOO, Minn. (AP)—After four long years, the Wabasso High School basketball team was back on the glory road today.

A 36-34 victory over Echo last night snapped a 43-game losing streak.

The school's football team in this community of about 700 also broke a four-year victory drought encompassing 23 games when it won its 1955 opener.

Cassady Awarded Another Trophy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Howard Cassady has been named the Robert W. Maxwell Club's 1955 college football player of the year.

The honor for the Ohio State All-America halfback, announced yesterday, followed by 24 hours the announcement that he was the 1955 winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy, also awarded to the player deemed the outstanding collegiate performer of the year.

The Maxwell award went last year to Ron Beagle of Navy, the Heisman award to Alan Ameche of Wisconsin.

Canadians Bid For Irish Star

CHICAGO (AP)—At least two Canadian pro football clubs are bidding for the services of Notre Dame fullback Don Schaefer.

Schaefer said last night he had offers from two Canadian teams and expected to talk with a third. He is a National Football League draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Schaefer would not reveal the Canadian clubs interested in him.

Trader Chuck Swings Deals For Chisox

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If Chuck Comiskey keeps on making deals for the Chicago White Sox, they'll be calling him "Trader Chuck" around the American League.

The Sox vice-president in charge of player swaps, since Frank Lane resigned as general manager and shifted to the St. Louis Cards, pulled another deal yesterday.

By returning Virgil Trucks, 36-year-old righthanded pitcher, to Detroit for third baseman Bubba Phillips, Comiskey completed his third major trade.

His first was to send infielder Bobby Adams to Baltimore for outfielder Cal Abrams. Then came the "big one" — shortstop Chico Carrasquel and outfielder Jim Busby to Cleveland for Larry Doby.

After trading Trucks, Comiskey quickly followed with a player move by purchasing shortstop Luis Aparicio from Chicago's Memphis farm of the Southern Assn. Aparicio, 21, is the man the Sox expect to replace Carrasquel.

Some baseball people thought the Trucks-Phillips swap was only the prelude to another deal between Detroit and the New York Yankees. The two clubs talked business yesterday, but made no announcement. The Tigers want a young infielder from the Yank farms—Herbie Plews, Bobby Richardson or Dick Carter. The Yanks are interested in pitcher Ned Garver and possibly Trucks.

Basilio Cops Second TKO From DeMarco

Basilio, the 28-year-old Canastota, N. Y., gamester, rallied from DeMarco's stinging punches last night to repeat his June TKO of the Boston challenger in the 12th round.

The time was 1:54, just two seconds longer than it had taken him at Syracuse six months earlier. Both fighters weighed 145½ for the nationally televised title scrap in Boston Garden.

After he had knocked down DeMarco for an eight count with a smashing right to the jaw, then flattened him for good with withering combinations in the 12th, Basilio revealed he had hurt his left hand in the second round.

That sore hand may make the patient Saxton wait even longer for his title shot. Saxton, who lost the championship to DeMarco here April 1, has since waived his contract return - bout priority for both of the Basilio-DeMarco slugfests. The contract for the latest match called for the winner to meet Saxton within 60 days.

After 43 Defeats, Team Finally Wins

WABASOO, Minn. (AP)—After four long years, the Wabasso High School basketball team was back on the glory road today.

A 36-34 victory over Echo last night snapped a 43-game losing streak.

The school's football team in this community of about 700 also broke a four-year victory drought encompassing 23 games when it won its 1955 opener.

Cassady Awarded Another Trophy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Howard Cassady has been named the Robert W. Maxwell Club's 1955 college football player of the year.

The honor for the Ohio State All-America halfback, announced yesterday, followed by 24 hours the announcement that he was the 1955 winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy, also awarded to the player deemed the outstanding collegiate performer of the year.

The Maxwell award went last year to Ron Beagle of Navy, the Heisman award to Alan Ameche of Wisconsin.

Canadians Bid For Irish Star

CHICAGO (AP)—At least two Canadian pro football clubs are bidding for the services of Notre Dame fullback Don Schaefer.

Schaefer said last night he had offers from two Canadian teams and expected to talk with a third. He is a National Football League draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Schaefer would not reveal the Canadian clubs interested in him.

Trader Chuck Swings Deals For Chisox

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If Chuck Comiskey keeps on making deals for the Chicago White Sox, they'll be calling him "Trader Chuck" around the American League.

The Sox vice-president in charge of player swaps, since Frank Lane resigned as general manager and shifted to the St. Louis Cards, pulled another deal yesterday.

By returning Virgil Trucks, 36-year-old righthanded pitcher, to Detroit for third baseman Bubba Phillips, Comiskey completed his third major trade.

His first was to send infielder Bobby Adams to Baltimore for outfielder Cal Abrams. Then came the "big one" — shortstop Chico Carrasquel and outfielder Jim Busby to Cleveland for Larry Doby.

After trading Trucks, Comiskey quickly followed with a player move by purchasing shortstop Luis Aparicio from Chicago's Memphis farm of the Southern Assn. Aparicio, 21, is the man the Sox expect to replace Carrasquel.

Some baseball people thought the Trucks-Phillips swap was only the prelude to another deal between Detroit and the New York Yankees. The two clubs talked business yesterday, but made no announcement. The Tigers want a young infielder from the Yank farms—Herbie Plews, Bobby Richardson or Dick Carter. The Yanks are interested in pitcher Ned Garver and possibly Trucks.

Jackson-Ashville Battle Tops Card

Both Teams Unbeaten In League; Full Schedule Set Friday Night

Only one team will be unbeaten in the county basketball league after Friday night's schedule is played.

In the night's top attraction, the Ashville Broncos, unbeaten in three games will travel to Jackson to battle the Wildcats who also boast an unscarred league record after three outings.

Ashville has an overall season's record of five wins and no losses while Jackson has one loss, a 71-62 decision to Stoutsville, to mar its overall record. The Wildcats have five victories to their credit.

Jackson has looked very good this season although the Wildcats had a close brush with the Atlanta Red Raiders whom they beat, 51-49 and with Kingston whom they won over, 63-61.

* * *

OTHER LEAGUE victims of the Wildcats are Williamsport and New Holland. They chewed the Deers 78-45 and defeated the Bulldogs, 71-57.

Ashville has had no trouble from any of its league opponents having rumbled over Scioto, 66-40, Atlanta, 63-39, and Walnut, 75-45. Mt. Sterling and Pleasantville, two non-league foes, are also victims of the Broncos' might.

Other games around the league include Williamsport at Saltcreek. The Deers have a 1-2 league record while Saltcreek is winless in two league starts.

The Walnut Tigers, now sporting a 1-2 league record travel to New Holland to battle the Bulldogs who have yet to crash the winners circle in league competition.

The Scioto Buffaloes, with a 2-1 record, play host to the Monroe Indians who have a 1-1 record.

The Darby Trojans with a 2-1 record trek to Atlanta to battle the Red Raiders who are winless in three league starts.

Scioto Rally Nips Midway Five, 60-57

The Scioto Buffaloes, riding ahead of Midway the entire game, suddenly fell behind by six points in the last quarter and had to make a strong rally to down their visitors, 60-57.

Neff, with 22 points, Knapp, with 18 and Stoer, with 16, led Scioto to victory while R. Justice, 6-foot-three-inch Midway center poured in 29 points to lead both teams in scoring.

Scioto's Green did a good job in guarding Justice who ripped the nets for 51 points in Midway's last outing.

Both teams scored 20 field goals but Scioto hit the nets for 20 foul shots, 10 by Neff, while the Tigers made good on 17 free throw attempts.

* * *

SCIOTO now has an overall record of four wins and three losses.

The prelim also went to the Buffaloes, 54-36.

Independents Back In Action Tonight

Two teams rule the roost at the present time—DeMolay and Pickaway Dairy. DeMolay, defending champion of the league, takes on the winless Jaycees at 7 p. m.; Pickaway Dairy meets Majority DeMolay at 8 p. m. Stoutsville and Amanda play in the third game.

The two top squads each have 2-0 records at the present time. Majority DeMolay and Stoutsville both are 1-1, while the Jaycees and Amanda have not won in two starts.

Little College All-America Team Picked

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press' Little College All-America football team for 1955 has a line that averages 210 pounds and boasts the country's leading scorer in the backfield.

Nate Clark of Hillsdale, Mich., led the collegiate players of the entire country with 144 points and is the only junior among the backfield that also included Gene Scott of Centre College, Dave Burnham of Wheaton and Charles Sticka of Trinity College at Hartford, Conn.

Up front are ends Charles Schultz of Alfred and Richard Donlin of Hamline.

Steve Myhra of North Dakota University and Wixie Robinson of Pepperdine at Los Angeles are the guards, flanking Hubert Cook of Trinity at San Antonio.

Cark gathered his 24 touchdowns for a Hillsdale team that romped through nine opponents by an average score of 34-9.

Scott brought back some of the glory of yesteryear to the Centre College campus at Danville, Ky., by contributing 1,138 yards in 107 carries for an average of 10.4 yards.

Burnham, who intends to be a minister after his graduation, led the Illinois eleven through an unbeaten league season and was named to his conference all-team for the third straight year.

Wichita Awarded Toledo Franchise

COLUMBUS (AP) — Wichita became a member of the American Assn. today as a farm club of the Milwaukee Braves in place of abandoned Toledo.

The Triple A American Assn., after a four-day franchise wrangle, finally ironed out its difficulties by successfully negotiating with the Western League for its Kansas spot.

The deal was completed 16 hours after Milwaukee reluctantly agreed to discard its plan to move the Toledo franchise to Miami. The Florida city's hope for Triple A ball was revived, however, by reports that an insurance executive, Sid Salomon, had requested an option to purchase the Syracuse Club in the International League to move it to Miami.

Close Squeeze

They say a local truck driver is the only one who can back one of the big vans into that slot next to the bus station on first try. The others have been known to take three, four or more tries at the close-squeeze spot before they get off Court St.

Wondering Out Loud

Aren't we gong to greet Santa Claus with one of the traditional parades this year? It seems the least we can do for a gent who is expected to spend the night of December 24 climbing down chimneys and lugging that bag all over the place.

* * *

Still It Happens!

Despite all the glee poked at the movie version of how newsmen work, a recent Sunday television feature had to go and have a "Washington correspondent" yammer into the phone in a way that would give any deskman the screaming meemies. The scribe, phoning in the results of a congressional hearing, even dictated the headlines as well as the story!

Newsmen who have tried the stunt in real life—just for kicks—have heard some of the strangest comments from the other end.

Safe Driving

Russell H. Campbell of the Columbus Automobile Club says many a boy or girl may be just a "chip off the old block" in motoring manners.

"Plenty of parents have only themselves to blame for the careless driving habits of their sons and daughters," the AAA club leader said. "The old folks have set such bad examples for years that their children hardly can be expected to be any better."

One of the things Campbell probably has in mind is the soft-headed theory that "a really good driver always has best control of his car when he's hitting along at a fast clip." The idea is that a fast clip bolsters confidence at the wheel, and that the reasonable speeds are only for the amateurs and ancients.

Any sane motorist knows several loopholes in the theory. The carefree speeder, for example, loses confidence fast when another—just as carefree and confident—disagrees on traffic rights. Or is too blind to see where he is going.

Fast Talk

From the Great American Home: "Isn't that unusual, a baby only one month old having teeth already?"

"What's unusual about it? Some children are born with teeth. In fact, some are even born with upper plates!"

December Decision

Considering how the measure popped up in council before it was expected, and weighing the fact that the lawmakers themselves have yet to hear all its details, it's surprising how many people already predict the city income tax will win at least a trial run. A number of council-watchers say they wouldn't be surprised if the ordinance rolled through before January 1.

They seem to figure this-a-way: Finance Chairman George Crites, sponsor of the red-hot proposal, has declared the city needs the tax plan as soon as it can get it, "unless somebody has a better idea". And two lame-duck councilmen, both apparently set to fade from the scene for at least a term, seem to have no particular reason to refuse George the favor of backing his project. And that would give the measure almost enough to win.

Then too, some of the prophets figure, council may decide the city would have little or nothing to lose by dumping the whole deal in the taxpayer's lap. The public has frequently been reminded that the tax could be turned down by referendum if it turns out to be too unpopular.

Regardless of prospects, though, it seems certain council will give the measure a real overhauling before any final vote is taken. And that would probably need a special meeting or two this month. Crites himself has said he wasn't aware of all the provisions in the ordinance, largely patterned after the Columbus tax. Some of the sections, he said, are obviously unfair.

Meanwhile, can't the lawmakers huddle in advance just to hear the big measure read before next Tuesday night?

Up for third reading and yet to be read in-full, the thing covers 17 important pages. And to cover all that on Tuesday night would mean a good many folks would have to bring a midnight snack and blankets.

After all, there are one or two other things to talk about Tuesday night. (And how!)
